

Speaker Services

Center for Developing Minds has experienced speakers who can give interactive talks or more formal presentations. Each presentation is tailored to the audience, whether a small chat or large lecture. CDM speakers are experts in their field, and have presented at national conferences and other venues throughout the country. CDM clinicians can also provide a variety of live-stream video presentations to schools, teachers, or parent groups.

CDM speakers offer continuing education on a broad range of topics about child behavior and development, and offer practical examples and tips to attendees. Examples of recent talks and possible subject areas include:
