

Let's Get Organized

Support Group for Homeschoolers Who Have Executive Function Difficulties

Classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays:
9:00-10:30 am (for ages 10-13 years old),
11:00-12:30 am (for ages 14-18 years old),

Meeting dates:

Jan. 9, 11, 16, 18, 23, 25, 30, Feb. 1, 6, 8, 13, 15, 2018.

Parent orientation session: Monday, January 8, 7:00pm.

Instructor:

Josie Porcella, M.A., Sp.Ed.

Organization problems are common among students who struggle with school. Even the most motivated of these children may find it hard to adapt to the increasing load of expectations as they grow older. This fun and encouraging group will help homeschooled students build new executive functioning skills essential for good organization. By working in a supportive environment among students that face similar challenges, the classes may also help to improve individual's self-esteem.

This six-week support group will specifically address:

- Cognitive Flexibility
- Planning and Goal Setting
- Time/Homework Management
- Self-Monitoring and Mindfulness
- Organizing Ideas, Information and Your Stuff
- Memory
- Metacognition

Classes are held at the Center for Developing Minds. Course fee is $650 for the twelve class sessions and the parent orientation. Class size is limited to provide participants with personal attention with our education specialist.

To register for these programs, please contact the Center for Developing Minds at 408.358.1853
www.devmonds.com

© 2017 by Center for Developing Minds. All rights reserved.

